

What Is...

Contacted.com and Who Should Use It?

Contacted.com is a 24 hour a day, 365 day a year accessible online contact management solution designed to help entrepreneurs, sales people and employees in both small and established businesses better manage and maximize their relationships.

If your business needs nothing more than an online rolodex billing itself as a Customer Relationship Management (CRM) system, there are a number of software developers that can provide you with one.

If your business is in need of a Sales Generation and Management Solution, Contacted.com is the answer you have been looking for.

Businesses that use Contacted.com are interested in fostering relationships with their contacts and leveraging the software to maximize the value of those relationships. In short, Contacted.com is to CRM's what a television ad is to a billboard.

Sure, a billboard can give you a one dimensional picture and hope that your imagination fills in the blanks. In contrast, Contacted.com delivers an experience – the sound, sights, imagery and instruction that allows you to truly develop the customer relationship.

Contacted.com was not built with a simple rolodex in mind, it was built around two staples of success: Vision and Organization. One cannot substitute for the other and neither can succeed on its own. Contacted.com shapes and delivers both to those who recognize the importance of integrating them into the customer relationship experience.

Who Uses It Now?... All types of businesses and organizations are using Contacted.com. Whatever your vision is, Contacted.com offers the tools to make it a reality.

How does the technology work?

Because Contacted.com is available to you via the Application Service Provider model, your organization can start using it quickly, easily and affordably without any up-front IT investments. The application is hosted on your behalf; you do not have to worry about setup or the technical points of the system's operation!

Track, organize, manage, schedule, create systems of action for employees, analyze and perform – you can start doing all these things today with the relationship building powerhouse that is Contacted.com.

Our IT team is tens of thousands strong and ready to put its muscle behind your company. That's right – tens of thousands strong! In addition to having our own in house development and customer service team, we have an "Army of IQ" waiting in the wings.

Contacted.com was built on the wildly popular DotNet-Nuke platform, an open source Portal with a user base 130,000+ strong. This platform is currently being used by many major business organizations worldwide.

What that means for you is that there are over 130,000 IT and business professionals generating ideas each and every day that are compatible with Contacted.com. See something on DotNetNuke that you would like to integrate into Contacted.com – a feature that you like or perhaps a customized skin? Let us know and we would be happy to make it a reality for you.

In order to build your business, you need to build relationships!

Contacted.com is your relationship builder...

More than a contact manager, Contacted.com is a Customer Relationship Manager. This system was built to allow you to bring an experience to your distributors and customers, not simply to track their phone numbers and favorite pet's name in an electronic format.

Would you like to sell the Contacted.com service to your distributors and their customers? Contacted.com can be fully co-branded or private labeled. Under co-branding and private label agreements, the product is fully customized with your look, touch and feel – enabling Contacted.com to not only become completely integrated with your company experience, but also a substantial revenue stream for you!

Contacted.com was built with three key principles in mind: 1. Help you manage your business contacts, 2. Assist you with making sales, and, 3. Maximize the efficiency with which you are able to work with your customer base. The system is rich with features designed to make these principles a reality.

Highly flexible to best suit how you work, there are a number of designs available for the system out of the box or you can even rearrange the interface in order to best suit your personal preferences. All aspects of the system are geared around allowing it to adapt to best serve your recruiting and sales goals.

The system comes in a number of different packages from single user to custom enterprise.
